

I enjoy not having my dinner interrupted with unsolicited calls. If I want a product, I will use the internet or the phone book to find the appropriate vendor when I am ready for the service. It also cuts down on the potential scams because my name is not on a list for calls.